

Candidate-generation rule may be common while realized K remains history-dependent.

Reset separation requires every surviving H -to- Y path in the mutilated time-unrolled graph to be intercepted.